Governor Patton Receives Leadership Award

The Gene Childress Leadership Award was presented to former Governor Paul E. Patton at the Kentucky Society of Certified Public Managers® (KSCPM) Election and Awards Luncheon at the Berry Hill Mansion in Frankfort. The award recognizes outstanding leadership in government, excellence as a role model, exceptional level of service to the public, and performance above and beyond the call of duty.

The award was named for Mr. Childress, the first Executive Director of the Governmental Services Center (GSC). During Mr. Childress' tenure at GSC, he earned a reputation for being supportive of his staff; he motivated them and gave them opportunities to excel. He was a visionary and exemplified a desire for excellence. In creating this award, it was decided that these are the qualities that should be reflected in the recipients of the Gene Childress Award.

These characteristics are evident in Governor Patton. In presenting the award, Tony Smith, Awards Chair of the Kentucky Society Certified Public Managers®, introduced the Governor as “someone who has demonstrated a lifelong dedication to public service and education.” The Governor’s support of the CPM program was exemplified by the fact that “during his term the Personnel Cabinet revised the Kentucky Administrative Regulations to allow CPM graduates to receive a 5% increase in base salary.” CPM graduates were also eligible to receive credit for two years of professional administrative or management experience toward requirements for many positions on state government applications.

Governor Patton elevated the Governor’s Minority Management Trainee Program (GMMTP) to the Governor’s Office. The program began with an Executive Order in 1995 and was designed to develop highly trained experienced and qualified minority candidates to help meet the future challenging management need of state government and the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The program instruction is part of the Certified Public Managers® Program. During his administration the GMMTP received national recognition and awards.

Modeling his lifelong commitment to education, he is serving as President of Pikeville College and has also served as a Distinguished Visiting Lecturer in Public Policy and Leadership at the college. He truly exemplifies the role of a leader, and is very deserving of the KSCPM Gene Childress Leadership Award.

Askew Award Winners

Recipients: Brandon Sanders, KSCPM Member Gregory Giesler, Tonya Stallard, Donna Melton, and Davie Ransdell.

This award is presented annually to those individuals who have been acknowledged for demonstrating exemplary work in the completion of their projects while pursuing their certification. This award is named for George C. Askew, recognized as the first person to receive CPM certification (by virtue of his last name) at the first graduation ceremony in Georgia in 1976. Askew was a leader at both the local and national levels in the early days of the organizations. These awards are presented to those selected by each CPM program and are given, as stated on the medallion, "For the utilization of management practices exemplifying the philosophy of the American Academy of Certified Public Managers in the completion of an exceptional curriculum project."

Project Title: Oversight of Online/Distance Education Providers in the Commonwealth of Kentucky

Project Synopsis: The Kentucky Proprietary School Board regulates Proprietary institutions. This board formulates policy and regulations to effectively regulate this industry. As the number of online and distance education opportunities increases the board wanted to see how other states are regulating this industry to insure quality.

The group designed a survey and compiled the data from all 50 states and the District of Columbia. After summarizing the finding with charts to help in presenting the information to the board, the group found a need for enhanced or different regulations for proprietary institutions.
